

CONGRESS TO CUT NAVY ONE HALF

SLASHING WILL LOWER PROGRAM OF CONFERENCE

Republican Leaders Say Naval Strength Twice What is Needed.

REDUCE EVERYWHERE

First Step Will Be To Cut Into Appropriations It Is Stated.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The American navy is in for the greatest cutting it has ever experienced at the hands of congress—slashing that will carry it far below the mark set by the armament conference.

Republican leaders in congress, those who handle the money bags, informed the International News Service today, that the American navy is just about twice as big as is necessary under existing conditions and that before congress finishes up its work, this session, the navy will be reduced by approximately one half all along the line—appropriations, personnel both enlisted and commissioned; ships, shore stations and other factors that go to make up the navy of today.

The first touch of the knife will be felt in the appropriations for the upkeep of the navy for the next fiscal year, starting June 30, next. The budget estimates call for an appropriation of $425,952,367. This will be cut at least $225,000,000, congressional leaders said today, leaving but slightly over $200,000,000 to run the American navy from June 30, 1922 to June 30, 1923.

In the original estimate was $90,000,000 for the building program. This will be knocked out completely, as under the naval treaty with Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, the program is not to be completed.

In the original estimate was $145,154,191 for the pay and subsistence of the navy. They aim to cut this in half by the simple expedient of reducing the personnel by half.

The present authorized strength of the navy is approximately 106,000 men and 5,900 officers; their leaders said today.

Congress also plans to do some scrapping on its account. Not satisfied with the number of capital ships, which the armament conference consigned to the junk pile, house leaders are going to direct the scrapping of numerous older vessels of all classes, and then force obedience by the simple method of not providing men and money for their continued operation.

"We have naval peace now," they argue, "why continue to pour millions of dollars annually into the maintenance and operation of a lot of old vessels that would be good only for shore defense in time of war anyway. They merely make the navy larger, not more efficient, so junk them and save money."

The congressional pruners are frankly expecting a howl to go up from the navy heads over the slashing program prepared. They are prepared to meet this, however, with the assertion that the war bogey has been chased away now for 15 years, at least and that this can be translated to the voters and taxpayers of the country only by reduced expenditures and consequent reductions in federal taxes.

Americans In Rome Seek Tickets To Coronation

Cardinal O'Connell Besieged By Countrymen—Holds Reception.

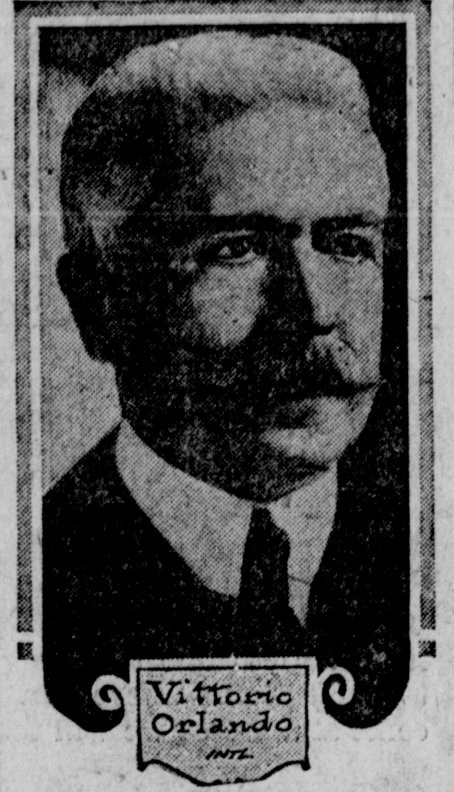

Rome, Feb. 8.—Americans in Rome are today besieging Cardinal O'Connell for tickets of admission to the coronation of Pope Pius XI.

Cardinal O'Connell yesterday held a reception at the American college, dividing his time between his vatican duties and his fellow countrymen. In American circles in Rome sentiment is very strongly in favor of a change in the constitution of the church which will in the future insure sufficient delay between the death of a pope and the election of his successor to permit American cardinals participating in the election. Pressure is being brought upon the sacred college from American quarters for this change.

Preparations for the formal coronation and pilgrimages from Italian cities continue in the face of a terrible snow storm. Wires are down and telegraph communication interrupted throughout the whole of Italy.

GIOLITTI WILL NOT FORM NEW ITALIAN BODY

King Has Difficulty in Organizing Government.

Rome, Feb. 8.—Signor Giolitti, veteran Italian statesman, today refused again the request of King Victor Emmanuel that he attempt the formation of a cabinet to succeed the resigned Bonomi ministry. The king then asked former Premier Orlando to attempt to construct a cabinet.

It has been many years since the king has had such a difficult time to get the organizing of a new government. There are numerous issues of great importance which the next ministry must handle chief of them being:

- 1—Quirinal-vatican relations and the possibility that the government may be called upon to meet reconciliation overtures from the Roman Catholic Church.
- 2—Plans for the international Genoa conference, with divergent interests being urged by various countries.
- 3—Labor troubles.
- 4—Criticism over the financial near-panic.

NINE INSTANTLY KILLED; 3 MORE MORTALLY HURT

Accident Occurs Tuesday Night In West Virginia.

"CHARGE" FAULTY

Blasting Blamed for Tragedy in Which Twelve Are Killed.

Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 8.—Twelve coffins were rushed to the wrecked operation of the Marietta Coal Company, Pinson Fork, Pond Creek, Ky., early today. Nine men were reported dead and three expected to die as the result of a dynamite and dust explosion there last night.

The known dead are: Oscar Nunnally, Paul Nunnally, Kelly Lockhart, J. Ains and Frank Ains. Four men are unidentified.

John Iago was brought to a Williamson hospital.

Three men, so far unidentified are said to be at the mine. M. P. Ball, Williamson undertaker was asked early today to send 12 caskets to the Marietta mine. He was told nine had been killed and three were expected to die. Blasting in the mine is done at night. A crew of 12 were blowing out coal preparatory to its removal today. A heavy "shot" of dynamite was put off in deep recesses of the mine.

According to the information the explosion was not well timed, resulting in a "windy" shot.

Fire from the blast ignited coal dust. A blinding explosion followed. Most of the crew were instantly killed.

Because of the sloping situation of the mine, rescue workers had great difficulty in removing the bodies last night and early today.

Relief parties are still digging into the debris in an effort to locate other bodies, but the opinion was expressed that all bodies have been taken out.

As the blasters were "putting off" their first shot of the night shift a terrible explosion occurred. Heavy rocks, timbers and wreckage were hurled high into the air, out of the mineshaft, as a pillar of fire and smoke flashed upward.

ONE MAN KILLED; NUMBER INJURED IN OHIO RIOTING

Disturbance Takes Place at Yorkville Early On Wednesday.

Yorkville, O., Feb. 8.—One man was killed, one injured and nearly a block of buildings riddled with bullets fired by guards in the Yorkville plant of the Wheeling Steel corporation at 12:15 o'clock this morning. Testimony given Coroner T. H. Kirk said the guards fired in the presence of Sheriff Edward Lucas of Jefferson County, after the sheriff had told the guards not to shoot.

Yorkville, O., Feb. 8.—One man was killed and a number injured during a riot early today at the Yorkville plant of the Wheeling Steel corporation. The plant, idle since last July, due to a strike, resumed operations yesterday. A threatening mob appeared before the plant at 3 o'clock this morning and a machine gun opened fire.

A crowd of more than 1,000 strikers is said to have attacked a strike breaker as he left the plant. When the trouble assumed more or less serious aspects a machine gun was turned on the striking employees.

The dead man is Elmer Cox, 42, and married. He was formerly a roller in the plant.

Before reopening the plant Tuesday the company is said to have brought in 50 armed deputies and several machine guns, as trouble was feared.

AGRICULTURAL "BLOC" SEEKING ACCEPTANCE OF FORD'S OFFER

Congressional Authorization for Leasing of Muscle Shoals Project to Ford Within 90 Days Is Objective at Present Time.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Before the government continues negotiations with Henry Ford for the development of the water power project and nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala., assurances should be given that the Detroit manufacturer will produce fertilizer there during the entire term of his lease. Secretary of War Weeks today told the house military affairs committee when hearings were opened on the Ford contract.

While Weeks was testifying before the military affairs committee the house agriculture committee voted unanimously that it should have jurisdiction over the Ford contract instead of the military affairs committee.

The decision of the agriculture committee probably will be laid before the house late today, promising verbal fireworks.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Congressional authorization for the leasing of the Muscle Shoals water power project to Henry Ford within ninety days was the definite objective of the agricultural "bloc," today, as the house military affairs committee opened hearings on the Ford proposal.

Leaders of the "bloc" hope to obtain congressional approval of the offer within sixty days, but will insist upon definite action before summer.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF LEAGUE STARTED

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Women employees, directors and stockholders of building, loan and saving institutions met here today and organized the women's auxiliary of the Ohio Building Association league, the first state wide financial organization in Ohio exclusively for women. The organization has a membership in every county in the state, will instruct local communities in thrift and economy and the "advantages of owning a home."

Mrs. L. M. Studevant, Sidney, was elected president; Miss Lydia Celarius, Cincinnati, vice president; Miss Lenore Kell, Steubenville, second vice-president and Mrs. James A. Devine, Roxabel, treasurer.

"More women are entering financial institutions in Ohio each year," said Mrs. Studevant, who declared that building, loan and savings institutions were properly a woman's sphere in as they catered exclusively to home building.

FORMER ARMY TRANSPORT ON FIRE 100 MILES OUT

COURSE OF VOTING FOR POPE TOLD

Rome, Feb. 8.—The course of the voting in the seven ballots that led to the election of Pope Pius XI was outlined as follows by the newspaper Il Tempo today: "This must be taken with reserve, but it is reported in vatican circles that Cardinals Gasparri and Vanutelli on the first four ballots concentrated the votes of the Italian groups upon Cardinal Mafti, despite sharp opposition from the opposition group led by Cardinal Merry Del Val. After the fourth ballot (Saturday evening) Cardinal Gasparri, Vanutelli and Mafti, held a conference and decided on the fifth ballot to swing all their strength to Cardinal Ratti. The sixth ballot on Sunday afternoon while not enough to elect, assured Cardinal Ratti's selection. He was elected by the necessary two thirds majority on the seventh ballot Monday morning."

GIVE UP HOPE FOR "NORTHERN PACIFIC" SHIP

Crew Abandons Vessel When Hopes of Saving Her Gone.

WAS "HOODOO SHIP"

Four Members of Crew Reported Missing—Carried no Passengers.

New York, Feb. 8.—The former U. S. army transport Northern Pacific which sailed from Hoboken, last night, with a crew of seventy men, is burning today 100 miles south of San Francisco. Her crew has abandoned her.

Latest reports from the flaming vessel indicated she was lost. She had taken an extreme list. All of her crew except four were accounted for in late dispatches to naval officials here.

The report that the 22 members of the crew saved, accounted for the entire crew, was denied by an official of the Admiral Line who said there were seventy on board. Another official said the estimate of the number in the crew was pure "guess work" and that no one knew the exact number.

"Twenty-two members ships company on board Transportation, five others on board Herbert G. Wylie, accounting for all hands in crew," read a wireless message from the vessel Transportation at 9:15 a. m. "Four Sun Shipyard people still missing. Transportation now standing by. Vessel burning throughout her length and impossible to board at this time."

The message also said the Northern Pacific was drifting in a southeasterly direction. The four missing were reported to be employees of the Sun Shipbuilding company at Chester, Pa. The Northern Pacific was being taken to Chester where it was to undergo repairs. The vessel had been purchased from the government by the Admiral Line and was to sail from New York for San Francisco in May.

No passengers were aboard. The steamer Herbert W. Wylie, reported she picked up a second officer, a second engineer and three seamen from life boats of the vessel and was standing by at 8 o'clock.

Captain William Lustie who commanded the vessel during the war, when it saw service as a transport, was in command. None of the reports indicated how the vessel had caught fire.

After an early report had been sent out that the Northern Pacific was afloat, officials of the army transport service issued a denial saying that the vessel was tied up at her pier. Later it developed she had left last night for Chester.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The former army transport Northern Pacific, burning at sea, 100 miles south of San Francisco, is known in army and navy circles as the "hoodoo ship" of the government service.

An atmosphere of disaster has hovered over the vessel ever since she was put into service. Army and navy men wagged their heads today over the news that she is now burning.

"The old hoodoo is still working," they said.

The Northern Pacific was put in government service during the war. Her first accident occurred when as a naval transport she was returning from Brest, January 1, 1919. She went ashore off Fire Island and her passengers were removed with difficulty. The navy experienced other minor mishaps with the vessel, and during the summer of 1919, she was turned over to the army for service in bringing home soldiers from France.

On May 10, 1920, she went ashore in San Juan Bay, Cuba, with General John J. Pershing aboard. Again she was gotten off with considerable difficulty. Today's accident is the third serious mishap in two years.

THREATS OF GENERAL STRIKE STILL HEARD

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Despite the conditional settlement of the railway strike, threats of a general strike were still heard today. The situation is regarded as very serious. If the radical laborites attempt to precipitate a general walkout it may be the signal for the supreme test of strength between the right and left parties. Both the conservatives and the extremists socialists are well prepared for such a struggle.

CHURCH NIGHT HELD AT FIRST METHODIST

Church Night at the revival meeting in the First Methodist Church, Tuesday evening brought out a good crowd. That there was to be a good time was evident when at six-fifteen nearly a hundred women, members of the Second Auxiliary met in the social rooms and sat down to a table spread with good things prepared by the women of the Auxiliary whose birthdays happened in February.

In another room a number of the group leaders met. They reported that the attendance at the morning prayer-meetings was larger than any last week. There was a freedom about the services at seven-thirty which showed that every one was having a good time.

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, Mr. Wileand will organize the "Booster Choir" and at seven meet the Epworth Leaguers to begin a series of conferences with them. Regular services will be held at seven-thirty. Thursday evening will be "Flower Night." Mrs. Keys is the chairman of the committee having this in charge. Flowers are to be brought to the church on Thursday and on Friday morning those will be delivered to the sick and "shut ins."

Styles BY LENORE

For winter resort travel and with an eye meanwhile to the approach of Spring, an important Fifth Avenue shop displayed this swaggy-looking light-weight topcoat, made of a material which may be said to be about a third cousin of chinchilla cloth, the texture much smoother. The color was a sort of amber brown, which is said to be a coming shade next season. Note the familiar lines of the collar. And the nice roony sleeves which insure a comfortable fit over a suit or a dress with any type of sleeves. It is intimated in various reports from wholesale dealers that new weaves will be an important feature of the Spring coats and wraps. Chinchilla cloth is one of the new materials, and fabrics with a soft pile finish will take an important place. A leading place is also given to the imported cloths with fancy backs, for sport wear, and camel's hair fabrics will no doubt be popular.

GET IT AT DONGES.

Mrs. Ovid Lowe will entertain her five hundred club, at her home on South King Street, Wednesday.

Word received by relatives in this city from the bedside of Mrs. R. S. Kingsbury, in the hospital at Daytona, Fla., is to the effect that her condition is gradually improving, with the exception of a few days when she was not so well. It is hoped she will have recovered sufficiently to be moved from the Daytona hospital to the Kingsbury cottage at Seabreeze, soon.

Thurman Wikle, of near Paintersville, baseball pitcher, who hurried for the Paintersville team last season, may get a try-out with the Cincinnati Reds this season.

Garry Herrman, Manager Pat Moran and a Mr. Winick of the Cincinnati Club, with Jack Ryder, Cincinnati Enquirer sport scribe and Andrew Hanning, of this city, stock holder in the Cincinnati Club met Wikle here Wednesday at the W. E. Fletcher cigar store and talked with him.

When the baseball officials left they instructed Wikle to go to Cincinnati for a second meeting, and friends of the young hurler predict that he will be given an opportunity to show his ability on the spring training trip of the Reds. Mr. Hanning entertained the other club officials at luncheon at the Elk's Club after the conference with Wikle and the party was expected to return to Cincinnati by motor Wednesday afternoon.

Wikle, who is only 21 years of age, first attracted attention of the baseball fans in this section last summer. As a pitcher for the Paintersville, a mediocre amateur organization, he displayed rare form and found little difficulty in striking out opposing batsmen, few being able to hit him consistently. The Paintersville pitcher is said to have a lot of speed, but possesses both control and curves and uses good judgment for a hurler of his age.

Dope bugs here while hardly hopeful that the Greene County pitcher would be able to stand the big league pace, this summer believe that a little seasoning will work wonders with him and are confident that the Cincinnati club will take the Paintersville boy on the training trip this spring, to give a real opportunity to show his wares. They point out also that good material is scarce this season and that if the local boy has in him the nucleus of a good pitcher, that he will likely get a chance to prove it.

Yeast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless, as your body cannot change inert food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes through your body without doing any good.

WHOLE NATION CELEBRATES SCOUT BIRTHDAY

TWELVE YEARS OLD—FEB. 8.

I am with the Scout Movement heart and soul. It is an organization teaching the spirit of service and honor which we must all have in our citizenship. I wish every boy in our America could have the advantage and the honor of being in the Boy Scout organization.

Warren G. Harding

Every Boy a Scout—and Every Scout Trained for Citizenship

THE BOY SCOUT movement is twelve years old! Today, with governors and mayors personally taking the Scout Oath and Law, Rotary and Kiwanis, Lions and other men's clubs giving barbecues and dinners, scout sermons in churches, father and son get-togethers, troop rallies and public mass meetings, and many other stirring activities all set in motion by a radio message from the President of the United States, the Boy Scouts of America will celebrate its own arrival at the age of admission to Scouting as a Tenderfoot.

Twelve years ago an idea; today, a movement in which 84,000 men are voluntarily giving service, and 403,152 boys are earnestly applying themselves to a definite program of outdoor activities and studies as preparation for the duties of citizenship.

Twelve years ago a new idea. Today an established American institution recognized by the schools as an invaluable supplementary aid to education, by the churches as a most desirable ally in character-building, and by statesmen and leaders from coast to coast as the most influential factor to-day in training boys for good citizenship.

Twelve years ago an untold idea here. Today a system of boyhood organized for civic service, looked to by state and city governments to perform definite duties of a serious character in forest preservation, combating epidemics, gathering accurate data on civic conditions for use of authorities, and the dissemination of information.

Twelve years ago an idea. Today a thoroughly organized, expert-led program of outdoor and indoor activities and studies that are the delight of boyhood, giving natural and wholesome expression to boy impulses and energies, making him one with Nature through hikes and camping, preparing him to face dangers and to meet emergencies, to save life and to care for the injured, developing his abilities to do things for himself and others, increasing his power and desire to serve, and making him ambitious to occupy a place of honor and usefulness in his community and in the nation as a good citizen.

Twelve years ago merely an idea. Today, an indispensable institution helping boys to know their duty to God and country, to keep themselves "physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight," and to be for all their boyhood days and to the end, trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

This is the movement conducted by the Boy Scouts of America as seen by leaders of church and state, school and business. In the twelve years that have passed, over 2,000,000 boys have subscribed to the Scout Oath and Law. Upwards of a half-million men have received the benefit that comes to men who give their services as scoutmasters and in other leadership capacities to this movement. Its attraction to boys has steadily increased through these years, and today there are known to be hundreds of thousands of boys who wish to become scouts but must wait upon leadership.

In these twelve years the Boy Scouts of America have given to our country many things of permanent and inestimable value. As a birthday gift to the movement it asks the gift of service to the nation's boyhood, by men.

FAULTY SUPPORTS ARE BLAMED FOR THEATER DISASTER

Washington, Feb. 8.—Iron construction intended to support the roof of the Knickerbocker Theater, the collapse of which cost the lives of 98 persons, was weak in certain points and was below the requirements of the plans submitted for the construction of the theater, Robert Henry Davis, engineer in the District of Columbia building inspector's office, yesterday testified at the opening of the coroner's inquest into the catastrophe.

Davis expressed the opinion in reply to question that the insufficiency of the construction, should have been discovered by proper inspection.

Save the bird in hand—The others may be hard to catch

With enough money, enough time and enough luck, a man may get back the health he has lost—or part of it.

It takes patience, too. And then there may be no success, or only a little.

It's better to save what you have than hunt for what you've lost—as the most successful health-restorers will tell you.

Much of the loss of health is due to faulty, careless diet. Wrong meals at all times and right meals at wrong times load the long-suffering digestive organs with elements of destruction, or starve the tissues and glands of needed elements.

It supplies the full richness of those splendid food grains, wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral elements, so often lacking from foods. A splendid thought for breakfast or lunch, for those who would keep health—

SUGAR.

A growing appreciation in this country of the food value of sugar is evidenced by constantly increasing consumption. In 1905 the per capita consumption of sugar was 15 pounds a year; in 1921 it was close to 30 pounds.

Sugar, bread and butter, rice, potatoes—the carbohydrates of our diet—are bodily fuel, but sugar is an food and therefore the least expensive; more noticeably so at present low prices than at any time in a generation.

A pound of sugar develops 1860 units of energy, and the 3.8 ounces of sugar which each of us consumes in a day provide about 17.7% of the required daily total of 2,000 food units.

If one could buy the remainder of his food supply at the same relative cost, his total food bill would be about $30 a year!

As a really efficient and economical food, sugar is incomparably cheaper than any other, and everybody is interested in obtaining an adequate supply at a reasonable price.

The two great sources of the world's sugar supply are from sugar cane and sugar beets. This year, for instance, it is estimated that the total cane sugar crops of the world will amount to 11,009,813 tons and the total beet sugar crops to 4,891,500, providing a total sugar production of 15,901,313 long tons. The estimated world consumption for 1922 has been placed at 20,000,000 tons.

Sugar cane is a tropical plant, for the cane requires a nine months' growing season of hot days and nights, and will not stand the rigors of winter.

Four or five centuries of experience in growing sugar cane have demonstrated that the two localities having the requisite conditions of soil, temperature and rainfall which make for ideal cane sugar growing conditions, are Cuba and Java.

Of the two, Cuba, in the extreme fertility of its soil, shows a marked superiority over Java. Both have about the same area, but in 1920-21 Java produced 1,510,000 tons, while Cuba's output was a little less than 4,000,000 tons.

Congress now proposes to increase the tariff sixty per cent on Cuban sugar, which would make it $1.60, (instead of $1.00), on the hundred pounds. This of course, is intended mainly as a protection to the sugar beet industry of the United States, though incidentally it will also have the same effect for the cane sugar industry of this country. Being a dyed-in-the-wool Republican, and taking it for granted that this increase is at the suggestion of the administration after wise consideration, we must think it right. Those who oppose the increased tax play loudly on the string that it is going to tax the people of the nation $162,000,000 a year. Their plea is that the sugar producers of Cuba are almost wholly Americans and that their interests should be protected. They are in fact great millionaire corporations, these Cuban sugar cane growers and sugar mill owners. The present administration here thinks it better to protect the farmer sugar beet raisers at home than the great corporations that go abroad to pile up their millions. We are willing to stand the six cents increase on our hundred pounds of sugar, for the benefit of the best sugar growers. "Home industry."

WILL JAPAN KEEP HER PROMISES TO CHINA?

Japan at the eleventh hour handed Shantung back to China. At the same time she took down that suspended sword, "Group V" of the Twenty-one Demands, from above the Mongol head. In the same breath Tokio waived her special and superior interests in vast Manchuria and in inner Mongolia, where the wheat grows, the Manchuk tribes have their home-land and railroads are waiting to be built.

America wanted the Japanese out of Shantung and the dangerous Twenty-one Demands nullified. We hoped to undo the wrong done China at Versailles when Shantung went to Japan despite our protests and those of the Chinese. We have regarded the Twenty-one Demands as a deed to the Chinese future, made to Japan by a bull-dozed, pacifist China. America has felt that so long as "Group V" was maintained by Japan for "future discussion" China would be in the hollow of Japan's hand.

Shantung has wailed oftener in headlines, but "Group V" was even more dangerous to Chinese integrity and to future peace in the world. "Group V's" stipulations have been regarded as the most outrageous and drastic demands since Austria's ultimatum decreeing the nullification of Serbian sovereignty on the eve of the great war. China was told that she must employ high-ranking Japanese in all her police departments in her great cities; that she must accept Japanese churches, schools and hospitals; must build three great rail systems specified by Tokio; must buy 50 per cent of her munitions from Japan and permit the erection of a Japanese arsenal and employ Japanese advisers in financial, political and military affairs.

Whatever her sins of omission or commission in the Conference, Japan has made friends in America by these concessions. Here action has removed dangerous obstacles to the full success and final approval of the work of the Conference.

LONDONERS WERE COLD TO BELL'S APPEAL.

It seems impossible to a generation accustomed to the blessings of practically unlimited telephone service, that there was a time when the public here in America refused to take Alexander Bell's invention seriously until Dr. Bell and his early associates by lectures and demonstrations, had forced the conviction that the speaking telephone was something more than a scientific toy.

As a matter of fact, the telephone pioneers never did succeed in interesting the big capitalists of the country and the first financing of the company formed to develop the telephone commercially came from a few enthusiasts of moderate means.

Slow as was America to recognize the commercial possibilities of the telephone, Great Britain was even more phlegmatic and even hostile to it. During the winter of 1878, Queen Victoria became interested in Bell's invention and at the Queen's command, a demonstration was arranged for her. After talking and listening for an hour. Her Majesty expressed herself "immensely pleased" and congratulated Bell who was present, asking if she might purchase two telephones. Whereupon the inventor presented the Queen with a very handsome pair of telephones with an ivory finish, and a telephone wire was later strung to Windsor Castle.

But while the Queen's approval had a favorable influence upon the British press and public, Bell was unable to raise any money in England to finance his invention and returned to America sick and disheartened and practically penniless, where he found his associates undaunted by obstacles, organizing the telephone business on a sound basis and hopeful of the future.

DAINTY ACCESSORIES

It is remarkable the difference that a few inexpensive accessories to the costume will make. It isn't only because these few little things smarten up the costume. They smarten up the woman herself. The girl who is inclined to be pallid and nondescript simply cannot afford to neglect these little essentials. They will make all the differences in her appearance.

First of all there is the hat, which simply must be becoming. It need not be expensive. Cheap hats are frequently as becoming as costly ones, but it must have the right lines for the head and face, and it must be the right sort of color. If you have any doubt about your own ability in choosing hats buy small black toques, silk velvet in winter, then and tulle or straw in summer, then you cannot go wrong.

Areeta—You will always take a risk on injuring the hair if you resort to dyes. The best measure is usually ten inches more than that of the waist but with very young girls if the bust measure is more or even less than this, it merely means they have not attained their proportions.

J. B.—When the hair is as oily as yours an occasional dry shampoo will not hurt it. The best way is to separate the hair into strands and use a soft towel rubbing the hair with this exactly as you would if it were wet and you were drying it with the towel. This will remove much of the oil, but if it does not dust into the hair a little powdered orris root, then brush it out.

Editor the Gazette and Republican:

A news item a short time since stated that ex-President Taft paid a visit to his former home in Cincinnati and walking about in the old neighborhood met no one that recognized him or that he recognized causing him to comment that "twenty years of time works many changes."

RESPECTING THE LAW.

The law decreed in olden times that witches should be burned; the courts abhorred their mystic crimes, and all their pleading spurned. My grandsire thought they ought to ditch all statutes of the kind; he thought the burning of a witch was not a sport refined. "But while such laws are in the book," my grandsire used to sigh, "around us daily we must look, for witches we may fry." Was there a beldame anywhere, who owned a cat or snake, my grandsire traced her to her lair, and tied her to the stake. He said, "The law must be obeyed while men for justice seek, and though I hate to burn a jade, I burn one every week. I doubt if witches really work much evil and distress, although they're roasted by the kirk, and by the law and press. But it is not for me to say that laws are right or wrong; I've built a roaring fire today, so, witches, come along." The law he doubted was repealed long since, as fierce and vain; old women now may go afield, with black cats in their train. And if some acrobatic dame can on a broomstick ride, the people will applaud her game, and point to her with pride. The law that's evil or absurd will from the volume fade; but while it is the nation's word, let's see that it's obeyed!

CENTRAL HIGH FIVES WIN TWO GAMES ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Central High School first and second basketball teams won their games with the O. S. & S. O. Home High first and second teams at the Rink, Tuesday night, while the Home Orioles defeated the St. Brigids Cadets, rounding out the three-game program evolved for the benefit of the Home Athletic Association.

The Rink held the largest crowd to witness a basketball program this season, children from the Home attending in a body, while the court attractions drew a large number of fans from this city. It is estimated that the Home will realize a goodly sum from the triple program that will greatly aid its athletics financially.

Coach Katherman's first string team did not have an easy time of it with the Home five. Fans, who recalled the last encounter of these teams more than a decade ago when the Central High quintette won by a score of more than 80 points to five, found that the basketball prowess of the state institution had improved considerably during that time.

HEADACHES

Headache due to anemia is felt in the forehead about the eyes and in the top of the head; that due to hysteria is felt in the top of the head; that due to nerve mental fatigue is felt as a band round the head, or it may be felt on the top of the head; that due to nose trouble or inflammation of the sinuses, communicating with the nose and throat is felt at the root of the nose and running there to the back of the head.

Eye headaches due to real disease are felt about the forehead and the back of the neck; eye strain headaches are felt in the forehead, the temples and back of the neck; headaches due to constipation or digestive disturbances are frontal (forehead) and about the eyes; headaches due to uterine troubles are felt on the top of the head or in the neck; migraine affects one-half of the head, especially the eye ball.

The sick, bilious or blind headache is usually one-sided. Here is really a constitutional trouble, most frequent, though by no means always so, in women. Members of nervous families, in which there is an hereditary tendency to gout, kidney trouble or epilepsy are liable; children over-worked, especially in their school tasks, may complain of it. Auto-intoxication, indigestion, errors in refraction requiring reading glasses, for the eyes, insomnia, shock, injury, and exhausting diseases, are causes for migraine.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Lee Ledbetter, 167 Hill St., Xenia, says: "I was miserably run down, especially when I arose in the morning. My back was weak and the least exertion tired me. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and received immediate relief. It was but a short time until Doan's cured me entirely of this trouble. The fact that I have not had any symptom for several years gives me reason to believe that Doan's have effected a permanent cure."

Mrs. Ledbetter gave the above statement Aug. 2, 1917, and on Aug. 15, 1921, she added: "I am very glad to again recommend so reliable a kidney remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made a permanent cure for me and I have had no occasion to use Doan's since they cured me several years ago. I am glad to confirm my statement of 1917."

TODAY'S TALKS

SOFT SEATS

The standing tree is an inspiring thing. That one which has fallen or leans, pictures something to us of pity or doubt.

A standing crowd looks much more powerful than one which is seated.

Action seems potent about things which stand.

To walk through a park and see, on the one hand, benches filled with sitting people, looking aimlessly into space or talking as aimlessly, and on the other hand people passing quickly through on their way to finish jobs—here you have a cross-section of our brief life span.

The turtle toddles along and is useful, for he faces his destiny in real turtle spirit. But the man—created in the image of his Creator—must either carry out his mission as a human being, or else pine into deadness and death.

"Life is real, life is earnest," wrote Longfellow.

"It is a serious business to start a soul voyaging toward Eternity," I once heard a great speaker exclaim in a noted lecture.

Who, then, shall occupy the soft seats of this whirling world? None but the ill and disabled—and those who have EARNED them.

Stand up, my friend, and be counted. Stand up so that you may be ready for "a fight or a frolic"—and be game to the last.

The Soft Seat Brigade will always be around. But you, who are normal and free, stay out of it—for neither does it toll nor spin.

The hard seats and the rocky ways develop and harden us. To be ready we must be fit.

Glory's sunsets illumine only those

Hives which have experienced blistered hands and the continued touch of toil and labor.

Soft seats and soft hands tempt from Time only bitterness and loss. You see best when you stand—and you grow most when you work!

Why Suffer With Goitre?

Goitre is due to abnormal gland activity. It causes a disfiguring enlargement of the neck, and claims both men and women among its victims, but in a majority of cases women are the sufferers. No disease is more of a scourge to women because of its disfiguring possibilities.

Whether the goitre is of the watery or the fibrous type, the cause lies in the disturbed action of spinal nerve impulses due to pressure upon the spinal nerve openings at the spine. This pressure is removed by chiropractic spinal adjustments and Nature being given a chance restores normal glandular action. The watery type responds more quickly to adjustments. The fibroid or hard goitre responds more slowly.

DAYTON MAN Reports Relief With

Simple Remedy After Suffering Up 15 or 20 Times Each Night for Two Years

Mr. Julius Mayer, 1430 East Fifth St., Dayton, in his own home paper, the Dayton News, says: "For two years my bladder caused me to get up many times at night and too frequent in the day. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, my bladder works perfectly normal and I can sleep all night."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder as Bismarck salts do on the bowels. You will be surprised at the impurities which come from the bladder after taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu. It is not a patent medicine as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high priced drugs which are useful to give relief. It is not likely that you have ever taken at retail prices. Try a few doses for backache, scalding scanty or high colored urine and frequent desire at night.

You can see the formula and learn more about Lithiated Buchu at Sayre & Hemphill's and drug stores everywhere, or write the Kessler Laboratory, McPhersonsburg, Ohio.

COURT NEWS

Seeks Second Separation

For the second time, Ada Moorman is plaintiff in an action for divorce from Homer Moorman. When they were first married, three children were born, of whom Harold, 14, and Robert, 11, are living.

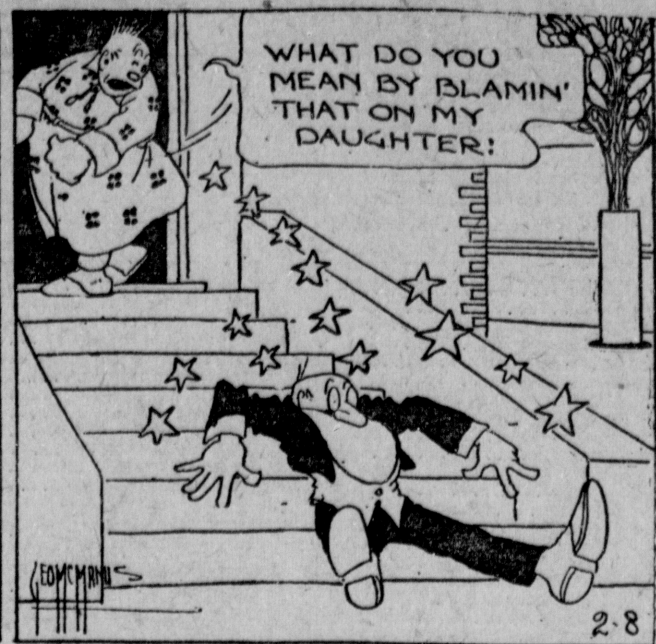

The plaintiff states in her petition that she re-married the defendant because of his solemn promise to reform and conduct himself in a proper manner. The petition states the defendant in 1917 left her entirely, being wilfully absent for more than four years. She asks for a second divorce decree, custody of the children and an order directing the defendant to pay for the support of the minor children.

Wants Partition of Property
Medie Warner, guardian of Charles Wilfred Earley, a minor aged 13 years is plaintiff in a suit for partition of property filed with Clerk of Courts Elam, Tuesday, naming as defendants Moses B. Earley, widower of Nancy Jane Earley, deceased, Otis Earley, George Earley and Medie Warner, widow of Walter Erbin Earley, deceased and Charles Wilfred Earley, a minor aged 13 years.

The petition claims that Charles Wilfred Earley is the sole heir of Walter Erbin Earley, and as such is entitled to an undivided one-third interest in 59.95 acres in Silvercreek and Ross townships, subject to the dower interest of Moses B. Earley and Medie Warner. The petition asks that the plaintiff's interest be set off.

Will Disposes of Small Estate
The will of John K. Rickman, of Jamestown, admitted to probate, yesterday, disposes of an estate valued at $500. Sidney Bowles is beneficiary under the will to the extent of $100 Liberty Bond and a $50 Liberty Bond, and all other money, and all the household goods and personal property. Gilbert A. ### SOME GOOD BREAKFAST DISHES

If your family has begun to tire of the customary breakfast dishes, try some of the following:

Oranges
Cereal
Ham-Egg Patties
Itsutsus Muffins
Coffee

Ham-Egg Patties: Mix together 1-2 pint of chopped cooked ham and 1 pint of bread crumbs, wetting to a soft paste with a little sweet milk. Put this mixture into gem pans and break a raw egg in each little "well" on top of the ham and crumbs. Sprinkle more crumbs on top. Bake until brown and serve at once, each patty turned out on an individual plate.

Itsutsus Muffins: Cream together 1-4 cup of butter and 1-4 cup of granulated sugar; add 1 egg well beaten. Sift together 2 cups of bread flour and 3 teaspoons of baking powder and add this to the first mixture alternately with 3-4 of a cup of sweet milk. Turn into buttered gem pans and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes.

Stewed Prunes
Cereal
Salmon Croquettes
Bran Muffins
Coffee

Salmon Croquettes: To a one-pound can of salmon take 1 egg, two unsweetened crackers rolled fine, and stir well together. Make this mixture into small cakes, then take still another egg, beat it, and roll an extra cracker. Dip the small cakes first into this beaten egg, then into the dry rolled cracker, and fry in half butter and half lard. Serve hot.

Bran Muffins: Sift together 2 cups bread flour, 4 cups bran, 2 teaspoons soda and a pinch of salt. Add to this dry mixture 2 1-2 cups of sweet milk and 3-4 of a cup of molasses. Beat well and turn into greased muffin pans. Bake about 30 minutes in a hot oven. This recipe makes 3 dozen muffins. They are good cold also.

The following are also delicious:
Graham Muffins: Sift together 1 1-2 cups of graham flour, 1-2 cup of white flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon soda, and a pinch of salt. Stir into this dry mixture 1 cup of sweet milk mixed with 1 well-beaten egg. Add 1-2 cup of sugar and turn into muffin pans. Bake for 30 minutes in a hot oven.

Answer to "Reader": To boil rice put 4 1-2 cups of boiling water and 1 1-2 teaspoons of salt into the top of a double boiler, over the fire, and when it is again boiling rapidly stir in 1 cup of rice, with a fork, adding it so slowly that the water does not stop boiling; for if the water ceases to boil, the rice is apt to fall to the bottom of the saucepan and the grains stick together, causing lumps. For 15 minutes keep the boiler-top over the direct flame, stirring frequently, then place it on top of the under-pan of the double boiler which contains boiling water. It may then be allowed to cook without stirring for 45 minutes. Of course the rice should be washed, then soaked overnight before being cooked.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

HELEN SHOWS JACK HER PURCHASES CHAPTER 34

"I won't pay for them!" Jack declared. "Mrs. Layton had no right to let you charge such expensive things. Do you realize it will take about all I have put away to pay for this gimcrackery, if this is all you bought."

"Oh, yes you will pay for them! You had no right to cheat me. The money was mine as much as yours. Didn't you declare you endowed me with all your worldly goods? If you had treated me right, perhaps I would not have bought quite as many things, but how do I know that you haven't stacks put away? I have been suspicious for some time."

"Oh, you have! Well, I'm no liar and it is the only time I have held out on you."

"It had better be the last." Then "Isn't that an exquisite shade?" Irresponsible as ever. All he had said could not destroy her delight in her purchases, or make her one bit remorseful.

Jack turned away, not so much in disgust, as in despair. Could he ever make her see that life had a serious, a sensible side? Was she always to be a child, with a child's outlook upon life? What would his mother, that mother who so unselfishly went without so that his father could save against old age and its demands, say could she see this riot of extravagance?

As if reading his thoughts and wishing to point the difference, Helen remarked:

"Wouldn't mother have loved to see me in this dress?" she had donned the afternoon gown. "She wouldn't have begrudged me anything from me. She never kept anything from me."

"If she had kept a little for herself and not worked so hard, she might be alive now!" Jack replied.

"That's right, blame me for everything! One would think to hear you talk I had killed her! Isn't this hat becoming?"

"Very! A nice hat for you to go out with other people while I stay home and slave to earn money to pay for it. You didn't need another hat, and that evening dress! Where do we go to wear a thing like that? I—"

"We don't go anywhere, because you are too selfish to take me out. I shall have plenty chances to wear it."

NOT EVELYN THAW SAY NEWSPAPERMAN WHO VIEW BODY

Washington, Feb. 8.—The body of a woman closely resembling photographs of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw found floating in the Potomac River Monday was said yesterday by newspaper men not to be that of the former actress.

Washington police communicated with New York authorities in an effort to check their par, identification of the body as that of the former wife of Harry K. Thaw after examining photographs provided by newspapers here but last night had received no reply to their inquiries.

Newspapermen who attended the trial of Harry Thaw in connection with the killing of Stanford White or otherwise were acquainted with the appearance of Evelyn Nesbit last night said that the body found in the river showed at first glance marked resemblance to the former actress but that closer examination revealed that it was not she.

Miss Nesbit disappeared in New York several weeks ago after her tea room had been closed and the body was believed by Washington authorities to have been in the water almost that length of time.

APPEALING CHINESE STORY IS UNFOLDED

An appealing Chinese story is told in "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," the operetta that will be presented by the members of the Girl's Glee Club, of Central High School, at the Opera House, Thursday night. The play, in addition to the plot, introduces many pretty songs, and a large chorus of girls will take part in the program. The presentation will be the first that has been made by the Glee Club, during the school year and promises are made for an interesting program.

Tickets for the operetta may be obtained for fifty cents from the members of the club, or at Sayres Drug Store. The money realized will be forwarded to the school treasury.

In fact, I am going out with Mr. Barnes and a party tomorrow night. You are invited."

"Well, I'm not going."

"I told them you probably wouldn't—that you would rather stay at home with a lot of figures, or a book, than to go anywhere to have a good time with me."

"You did! Just what I might expect. You didn't add that I had to work evenings to get money for you to throw away, did you?"

"I should think you would be ashamed of yourself, Jack Hunter. Both of these dresses were reduced, and so was the hat. I try to be economical, but I get no thanks for it. You pay me by deceiving me." She again turned to the mirror, tilting the hat a little and smiling at the effect. Jack interrupted her:

"I suppose the dishes will do themselves while you admire yourself in the mirror. I must get to work. You'll have to do them alone tonight. I've wasted all the time I can afford to if I am to get this job done in time."

"They can stay dirty until morning. I want to try on the rest of these things. Aren't those stockings a perfect match?" she held a pair of thin silk stockings beside the evening gown of pale mauve. "I am having some satin slippers dyed the same color."

By this time Jack was powerless to reply. One would think he was an Astor or a Rockefeller, he thought as he took his work into the living room and commenced on that interminable row of figures that tonight danced a can-can on the page. Mauve dresses with stockings and shoes to match, elaborate afternoon gowns, hats and expensive negligee crept between him and the figures, blurring them. Finally he threw his pen down in disgust, and taking his hat, rushed out of the house, deaf to Helen's call as to where he was going.

Tomorrow—Jack Refuses Barnes' Invitation.

INDIAN SAID TO BE 137 YEARS OLD DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 8.—Ga-Be-Nah-Gewn-Wonce, also known as John Smith, a Chippewa Indian, reputed to be 137 years old, died here yesterday after a week's illness with pneumonia.

Smith, whose Indian name meant "Wrinkled Meat" had been very active in late years. A year ago he became totally blind, but his mind remained clear to the last and he often recalled the days when he was a scout for the Chippewas in the wars with the Sioux. He also remembered events of the war of 1812. One of his boasts was that he had never fought against the white man.

Up to four years ago he had never visited a big city. His first trip of this kind was to the Twin Cities. Later he visited the automobile show at Chicago.

A year and a half ago he returned to the north woods of Minnesota to spend his time fishing for sturgeon in Lake of the Woods in the same waters that he fished more than a century ago.

Ga-Be-Nah-Gewn-Wonce had been married eight times. He had no children and the only survivor is Tom Smith, an adopted son with whom he lived.

EARLY H. & A. HISTORY

The Hooven and Allison Company was founded by George F. Hooven in 1868. The Company was carried on under what would be today regarded as almost primitive conditions. Cordage was manufactured with the aid of hand spinning wheels and was really a handicraft product. In 1870, Mr. M. C. Allison bought an interest in the firm and was admitted as a partner. This partnership was continued until 1888 when Messrs. Hooven and Allison decided to retire from the Cordage business. They sold their interests entirely. The new owners retained the name of the old firm and incorporated the Company under the laws of Ohio.

Since 1888, the control of The Hooven and Allison Company has never changed. This fact has resulted in consistent and maintained policies and is, without doubt, the principal reason for the Company's success.
